On the Cover: Sporadically, plastids extend and retract stroma-filled tubules called “stromules” that branch and form polygons. Schattat et al. (1667–1677) visualized stromules and the neighboring endoplasmic reticulum (ER) simultaneously and observed a high degree of coincidence in their dynamic behavior. Their findings open new avenues for understanding mechanisms of transfer and exchange of lipids and metabolites between plastids and the ER. The cover picture shows a three-dimensional volume rendered ferredoxin NADP(H) oxidoreductase-enhanced green fluorescent protein-labeled chloroplast in a confocal image with stromule branches extending along the red fluorescent protein-HDEL-highlighted ER. Image and volume rendering by Martin Schattat and Kiah Barton.

FOCUS ISSUE ON PLASTID BIOLOGY

EDITORIAL

Plastid Biology: Focus on the Defining Organelle of Plants. Katherine W. Osteryoung and Andreas P.M. Weber 1475

UPDATES

Novel Regulators in Photosynthetic Redox Control of Plant Metabolism and Gene Expression. Karl-Josef Dietz and Thomas Pfannschmidt 1477

<sup>[W]</sup>Stromules: Recent Insights into a Long Neglected Feature of Plastid Morphology and Function. Maureen R. Hanson and Amirali Sattarzadeh 1486

Assembly of the Photosynthetic Apparatus. Jean-David Rochaix 1493

Plastid Biotechnology: Food, Fuel, and Medicine for the 21st Century. Pal Maliga and Ralph Bock 1501

The Import and Export Business in Plastids: Transport Processes across the Inner Envelope Membrane. Karsten Fischer 1511

Expression of Plastid Genes: Organelle-Specific Elaborations on a Prokaryotic Scaffold. Alice Barkan 1520

Mechanism of Plastid Division: From a Bacterium to an Organelle. Shin-ya Miyagishima 1533

<sup>[W]</sup>Genetic Dissection of Chloroplast Biogenesis and Development: An Overview. Barry J. Pogson and Verónica Albrecht 1545

Plastid Origin and Evolution: New Models Provide Insights into Old Problems. Cheong Xin Chan, Jeferson Gross, Hwan Su Yoon, and Debashish Bhattacharya 1552
